

DATE: 26 OCTOBER 2007

To whom it may concern:

Donaev Management Consulting strives to be the partner of choice for existing and potential customers and partners. They provided both the most experienced and innovative resources available. Donaev Management Consulting knows how to deliver results and handle projects professionally, on time and within budget.

Donaev Management Consulting respects the culture, history and architecture of the people and places involved in each project. They see each new job as a unique opportunity for co-operation and innovation.

Donaev Management Consulting has strong methodical and professional foundation and is highly recommended to work with.

GARETH WILLIAMS

Gareth Williams
International Director